Dear Hula Host,

Thank you for agreeing to be a Hula Host for Lily's Luau! Epilepsy is a condition that will affect every 1 in 26 people. Perhaps you know someone who has seizures. Some find control and live a normal life. But for many, this disorder is devastating. Epilepsy is underfunded and under-researched. It's time for that to change.

Lily's Luau

On January 20, 2018 the tenth and final Lily's Luau will take place at Varsity Hall Union South.

Like the first nine luaus, this public celebration will provide inspiration for those working toward a cure, and hope for people living with epilepsy. All money raised goes to Lily's Fund for Epilepsy Research to support local research at the UW-Madison. You can check out the research we fund at lilysfund.org

Your Job As Hula Host

- Recruit 10 people (including yourself) to come to Lily's Luau with you on January 20, 2018. If possible, try to invite people who have not been to the Luau before!
- Invite guests to purchase tickets on their own either by sending in their RSVP card or online here. Make sure they list you as their Hula Host.
- Or, you can "treat" them as your guests and register and pay for them online. (Ticket prices are $50 before Jan. 7 and $60 after.)
- Let us know if you would like extra invitations to hand deliver to your guests.
- Encourage your guests to visit our website to give them a feel for what Lily's Fund is all about.

We promise a remarkable evening filled with camaraderie, inspiration, music, food, auctions, raffles, and more.
